

Those working in the local hospitality industry were treated to a class Tuesday that helped educate them on all there is to do in Mount Airy.

The class, called “What’s there to do around here?” was sponsored by the Small Business Center of Surry Community College and yesterday was hosted by the staff of the Mount Airy Visitor’s Center.

Read More